Sunshine For Easter Morn Is Possible

Snow Is Predicted In Sierras; Cold Tonight

The Easter bunny will get his feet wet, and new Easter togs will be best seen inside, if the weather man is correct in his forecast of Sunday's weather for El Dorado County.

"Snow and colder tonight, clearing Sunday; moderate northwest winds" is the forecast for this region as reported from San Francisco by United Press.

Friday night left about an inch of snow and an additional quantity of rain in Placerville for a total precipitation reading of 1.05 inches.

Camino reported "six or eight inches" of new snow and it was indicated the storm was general over the county.

DEANNA DURBIN TOPS SUNDAY'S SCREEN PROGRAM

Millions have heard the glorious soprano voice of Deanna Durbin singing in Eddie Cantor's radio show. Now everybody in this city can see Deanna's rare beauty in the movies and hear her golden tones at the same time.

Dainty Miss Durbin has been brought to the screen by the New Universal in "Three Smart Girls," which begins its two-day run at the Empire Theater on Sunday.

Possessing a lyric soprano voice that electrifies all who hear it, little Miss Durbin makes her movie debut in one of the gayest comedy dramas ever to come out of Hollywood.

It deals with the madcap adventures of three lovely daughters of a New York millionaire who join in a conspiracy to break up their father's romance with a fortune hunting beauty.

The blonde, played by Binnie Barnes, and her scheming mother, portrayed by Alice Brady, put up a spirited fight for their matrimonial prize, but are outwitted by the three smart girls. Charles Winninger, as the millionaire, Ray Milland and Mischa Auer are prominently cast.

MURDER CHARGE IN PAPER FEUD

State Tax Auditor Is Facing Hearing On Tuesday

ALTURAS (UP)—Harry French, 30, state sales tax auditor, was held in jail without bail today, charged with murder in the slaying of Claude L. McCracken, editor of a daily mimeographed publication here.

The complaint naming French, the son of the editor of a rival weekly newspaper, was signed by District Attorney A. K. Wylie, who set the preliminary hearing for March 30.

Wylie said that French apparently killed McCracken in "cold blood with deliberate malice and premeditation.

Miss Donna Conwell, 27, a partner of McCracken, who was reported to be an eye witness to the slaying, appeared before Wylie to make out the complaint.

Simultaneous with the signing of the complaint against French, a coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that McCracken "came to his death as the result of gunshots fired by Harry French."

McCracken was shot five times while eating dinner with two women companions in his home. Three bullets entered his chest and abdomen and two struck his arms, which he had raised in an effort to protect himself.

Jack Meyers To Wed Sunday At Capital

Jack Meyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Meyers of Placerville, and Miss Jeanne Y. Young of Sacramento, will be wed Sunday afternoon at the capital city. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, parents of the bridegroom, and the bridegroom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers, will go from Placerville to attend the service.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meyers will attend the couple and the service will be performed at the Episcopal chapel at 27th and M Streets.

The bride-to-be is a Sacramento girl, employed by the Bon Marche.

Mr. Meyers is employed at Sacramento as a salesman for a cosmetic and barber supply firm. The couple will make their home in the capital city.

Rangers Return From Rural Fire Institute

Rangers M. D. Morris, George B. Young and R. R. Bryan of Eldorado Forest staff, returned Friday evening from Davis where they spent Thursday and Friday at the annual Rural Fire Institute at the College of Agriculture.

The forest's new fige-fighting truck for the Pacific district, with Sid Manwaring at the wheel, was taken to Davis for demonstration during the institute.

The rangers report the two-day meeting a very interesting and instructive session.

The birth of a daughter, Arietha Jean DeWitt, to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. DeWitt of Placerville, on March 23, was of record Saturday at the courthouse.

Italy To Send 100,000 Troops To Spain, Said

Germany Also Charged With Giving Aid To Fascists

ANDAJAR, Spain (UP)—The rebel counter offensive on the Pozoblanco front in South Central Spain collapsed today, loyalists reported, and the insurgents with 10,000 Italian reinforcements were driven back to their old positions with heavy casualties.

NEW TROOPS REPORTED

VALENCIA, Spain (UP)—Morning papers today said they had learned from an "absolutely reliable source" that Italy is planning to send 100,000 men to Spain to fight with the rebels for a Fascist victory.

It also was charged that Germany is using the port of Pillau in East Prussia for shipments to rebel-controlled Spain in the civil war against the Leftist government.

Earlier loyalist estimates have said that there already were 80,000 Italians and 40,000 Germans fighting on the rebel side in Spain, presumably sent before the international non-intervention plan went into effect February 20, barring aid to either faction.

TURLOCK BOND HOLDER SUES

Water District Named Defendant In Case Saturday

A suit was on file Saturday in Superior Court in which J. R. Mason of Turlock, is plaintiff, against El Dorado Irrigation District.

The action, filed by Attorney W. Coburn Cook of Turlock, states that Mason is the owner of eight bonds of the district of a value of $8,000 upon which interest in the amount of $1,770 is owing and unpaid.

The complaint further prays for a determination by the court as to whether there is any money in the district's bond fund; that the court rule upon the priority of payment to bondholders from that fund; that the court determine whether any funds have been improperly transfered from the bond fund; and judgment requiring the defendant to apply any available funds to its obligation.

JAMES E. BARNES DIED SATURDAY IN PLACERVILLE

James Edward Barnes, 72, known familiarly to many friends as "Barney," died early Saturday at a hospital in Placerville. He had been found, a few hours before, wet and cold from exposure on Tunnel Street.

Coroner A. J. Orelli is in charge of arrangements and is seeking to communicate with his nearest kin, a neice, living in Vallejo.

Mr. Barnes—"Barney"—had been in this vicinity about 16 years, coming to this county from Plumas County. He had also spent some time mining in the vicinity of Downieville.

"Barney" was a native of Boston and had lived in California for 65 years. He came to California in 1872.

Much about his earlier life is not known. Once in a while in conversation, "Barney" made reference to having held some positions of responsibility in earlier life. During his 16 years in this county he had been a gardener and a man-of-all-work.

He was well-liked by a large circle of friends. He was gentlemanly, usually a good worker.

Almost all with whom he came in contact will remember him as "a nice old man."

Henry Bacchi was a visitor Saturday from near Lotus.

2 CAMPAIGNS TO SPUR SALES OF BARTLETT PEAR SURPLUS

Stabilization Committee Sets Dates; Drive Opens April 12, Ends April 24; Will Be Renewed Last Week In May

SAN FRANCISCO—To sell hundreds of thousands of cases of canned pears in three weeks is the major objective announced today by the Pacific Coast Canning Pear Stabilization Committee representing ten thousand pear growers. Two weeks in April, 12 to 24, and a week in May, 24 to 29 have been designated as national pear weeks and during those periods the Bartlett pear from the Pacific coast will lead the food parade.

California, Washington and Oregon are mutually interested in this campaign and upon its success depends the welfare of entire agricultural communities. With the present carry-over stock of pears packed last year the growers see only runious prices ahead for their 1937 crop. For several years they have been selling their crop at prices that in many instances were less than the cost of production. By a united effort they now hope to clear the way for a better market.

The assistance of the National Association of Food Chains has been enlisted with the promise that canned pears will be featured in thousands of newspaper advertisements during the coming month. This association brings to the campaign the selling resources of 37,000 retail markets.

Canned pears will be featured also by hotels, restaurants, dining cars and steamship lines. One of the new slogans for the pear presents it as the "streamlined aristocrat of the American table."

The Canning Pear Stabilization Committee has divisions in the Yakima, Wenatchee, Hood River and Medford districts as well as a California division which represents the seven producing districts. On the California committee are: John D. Wheeler, chairman, Courtland; A. F. Moulton, vice-chairman, Ukiah; Frank T. Sweet, secretary, Berkeley; Contra Costa and Suisun districts; Philp Bancroft, Walnut Creek; James Irvine, Moraga; Percy Neitzel, Suisun; Frank Rutherford, Danville; W. S. Scarlett, Suisun; El Dorado and Glenn districts; James A. Irving, Placerville; James Mills, Sr., Hamilton City; Joe Pearson, Yuba City; L. W. Veerkamp, Placerville; H. H. Wolfskill, Marysville; Mendocino and Lake districts; George Curtis, Kelseyville; Wendell Henderson, Kelseyville; Sam Hill, Kelseyville, Orval Tadlock, Ukiah; Alex Thomas, Ukiah; Placer district; Harry E. Butler, Penryn; H. B. Murphy, Placerville; M. R. Noia, Penryn; Sacramento district; Elmer Christophel, Sacramento; Wm .Darsie, Walnut Grove; David Elliot, Courtland; R. S. Conservation Associations Open Meetings

Geo. Volz Re-Elected President For Placerville

A series of meetings of district conservation associations in El Dorado and Alpine Counties was opened Friday night with a meeting in the Superior Court room at the courthouse at which officers were chosen for the Placerville district association for 1937.

A meeting is in progress at the Tennessee schoolhouse at Rescue this (Saturday) afternoon and the series will be resumed Monday with a meeting at 7:30 o'clock at the Penobscot school.

Wednesday the Aukum district association will meet at 1:30 o'clock at the Fairplay-Aukum hall and on April 3 the Alpine County association will meet at the Fredericksburg schoolhouse.

George H. Volz was re-elected president of the Placerville district association with Roy Marks vice-president and L. W. Wernet as the third committee member. George Van Vleck was named alternate.

A number of stockmen attended the Placerville meeting and the 1937 crop

SPRAY MEETING AT COURT HOUSE

Pear Growers Invited To Discussion On Wednesday

The spring spray meeting scheduled for March 31 at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, will be held at the Superior Court room in the courthouse, and not at the War Veterans' Memorial building as had been stated in an earlier announcement.

Original plans were to hold the meeting at the Memorial hall but it was later learned the building would not be available. Hence the change in meeting places.

All pear growers and others interested are welcome to attend the meeting at which A. D. Borden and C. E. Scott of the University Extension Service, will discuss codling moth control methods and pear crop scab control, along with other spring spray problems.

STATE TAX ON RETAIL SALES IS SUCCESSFUL

SACRAMENTO— California's retail sales tax is the most effective of any such tax levied in the United States. This was evident in a report prepared by the research division of the Illinois state department of finance, comparing results obtained in the 12 states in which sales taxes are in force. Using figures for the last fiscal year, the report showed that California was far ahead from the standpoint of gross collections, with a total of approximately $73,000,000.

Compared with this, Illinois, which also has a three per cent tax, collected only $64,000,000, including levies on food and gasoline sales. If these items were included in the California tax, the total for the year under consideration would have been approximately $91,000,000, state board of equalization officials estimated.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

NEW YORK (UP)—For the first time in my life I have been overcome by a laundryman.

The laundryman who conquered me is George Marshall, the wet wash tycoon from Washington, D. C., who, for some reason that is as obscure as the explanation for putting starch in collars, has taken over the sports promotion of Pan-American Exposition.

The Pan-American Exposition, in case your laundryman hasn't told you about it, will be held in Dallas, Texas, beginning June 12, and will run (Dallas hopes) for 142 days. It will be very damn cultural, but for those who tire of culture after two courses, a gigantic sports program has been arranged.

And this is where Brother Marshall comes in. He has been engaged, at an alleged salary of $100,000, to stage a sports show which, in quantity at least, will make the Olympic Games seem a high school relay meet in comparison. I don't know why Marshall was chosen. It may have been because his wife is the former Corinne Griffith of the silent films. It may have been because he dreamed and brought into being the Roosevelt speedway. It may have been because he owns the professional football team known as the Washington Redskins. Ot it may have been because he was born in West Virginia and wound up as one of Broadway's most elegant hot-spot spenders.

But anyway, the Pan-American sports business is his baby, and he is going to shoot the works. I've read his first batch of publicity, and the only sports event he overlooked was a butting contest between two virile and determined billy goats. Everything else is there, including a 300-mile automobile race, with $17,500 in prizes; a track meet involving 21 countries; a boxing tournament in which the champions of Central America, South America, and plain America will strike one another on the nose; soccer engagements pitting those sterling soccerists of Uruguay, Chile, Argentina, and the United States; and, as a grand finale, a marathon race from Mexico City, Mexico, to Dallas.

It is the last item which intrigues me the most, because it conjures up memories of C. C. Pyle's "Bunion Derby." That was a tremendous sports event, for it settled for once and for all which man in America had the strongest arches and the weakest mind.

The winner of that derby earned undying fame. I forget his name, right now, but he will go ringing down the corridors of time to a front row seat in posterity. So that he won't be lonesome, I suppose, Brother Marshall has devised the Mexico City to Dallas trek. I can assure Marshall that his creation of this marathon stamps him as a genius. No one but a genius could have thought of it. But I'm not saying what kind of a genius I mean.

The entry list will be tremendous, naturally. It isn't often that a chance comes along to prove that you are the fastest man between Mexico and Texas. It would be no small honor to always be introduced something like this:

"Miss Edwards, may I present Turk Glutz. His were the only feet to last the whole way from Mexico to Dallas."

Turk could then suggest to Miss Edwards that they sit the next dance out, and—who knows but what Miss Edwards and Turk might fall under the spell of love and—sweet thoughts!—marry and later have a bundle from heaven who, upon reaching man's estate, would follow in the footsteps of his father and lower the record between Mexico City and Texas.

PLAY DEALING WITH WINDSOR STIRS TORONTO

TORONTO, Ont. (UP)—The amateur playwright, Stephanie Jarvis, has created a stir here with production of the play she wrote, entitled "Swords on the Altar," based on the abdication of King Edward VIII.

The play was presented at a drama festival here. It deals with the abdication; a war fought by England in Egypt, which England loses, and the question of Canada's fate. The United States offers to defend Canada from attack by the enemy, if Canada joins the Union. The enemy, in turn, offers England an armistice, if Canada is given to her.

Just as King George VI is about to sign the armistice, the Duke of Windsor bursts in upon him, persuades him, on behalf of Canada, not to sign, and succeeds. The play ends with Windsor on his way to join the army and fight for Canada.

Discussions of the abdication by characters cast in various roles, feature the play—mostly because of the frankness in which the subject is treated.

NEW YORK (UP)—The Lenten season, traditionally a poor period for the theater box office, ends tomorrow and the producers of the approximately 30 productions still on display hope that the cash registers will ring a bit more enthusiastically for the next few weeks before warm weather sets in. I hope that the post-Lent period also will bring improvement in the quality of new productions.

The fare has been lean during the past few days and we have been neither amused nor moved by such plays as "Arms for Venus," "Sun Kissed" and "Cross-Town."

The production of Shakespeare's "Richard II" starring Maurice Evans has been the wonder of the season, drawing not only critical acclaim of unusual unanimity but also plenty of that green paper which passes for money. Now it gains further distinction, a rare one indeed, by announcement of the producers that business is so good that the 35 members of the cast have been given salary increases. Such an act falls in the man bites dog category.

Helen Hayes is still playing along in "Victoria Regina" to box office returns which few of this season's plays have surpassed, but she is going to quit in another month or so and rest up for the 1937-38 season which will see her traveling some 9,000 miles up and down and across the country with this interesting biographical drama. The plans are down on paper. The tour starts September 16 at Hartford, Connecticut, and will embrace 39 weeks, 40 cities and 23 states. Minneapolis on the north, New Orleans to the south and Los Angeles in the west will serve as boundary marks for the tour, which ends June 11, 1938.

Katharine Cornell, the other "first lady of the theater," also is going to pay her fans outside New York City a visit, but will not wait until next fall. The middle of April will find her taking "The Wingless Victory" and "Candida," her current vehicles, for a spring tour which will include Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and perhaps other points.

TOO MUCH CASH PLAGUES TOWN IN WISCONSIN

RANDALL, Wis. (UP)—Principal worry of Randall town officials today was what to do with all their money.

The town treasury has a $16,000 surplus, mostly tavern and cigarette license and utility tax receipts.

Town officials spent money as fast as they could, they said, but it wasn't fast enough. They financed road, bridge and culvert repairs until they couldn't find any more. They tried to spread the surplus on tax rolls but that was illegal. They can't reduce property taxes because there aren't any.

He called a town caucus April 6 to see if the voters have any ideas.

MENTAL LAZINESS

KENT, O. (UP)—Much of the present cynicism toward religion is traceable to intellectual laziness rather than to a conflict with science, believes Dr. W. J. Burner, head of the Spanish department at Kent State University.

Federated Church Has Special Music

In addition to the Easter message, especially prepared musical numbers will feature the Easter Sunday programs at the Federated church.

The observance will include Communion at 7 o'clock Easter morning, and the regular morning and evening church services.

At the morning Communion, Mrs. Altina Raber will be the soloist, offering, "There Is a Green Hill Far away," by Adams.

At the morning church service the choir will sing the Easter "Hallelujah." The choir also will sing "Christ Is Risen," by Emerson; and Vail's "King All Glorious," with Mrs. Lena Rantz as soloist.

The offertory solo will be by Mrs. Gladys Morrow.

Musical numbers for the evening service include Gounod's "Hail, Mighty Victor," by the choir; "Lift Up Your Heads," by Ashford, with Mrs. Gladys Morrow as soloist; "Easter Dawn," by the choir with R. M. Walter as soloist; solo, "I know That My Redeemer Liveth," by Mrs. Rita Peart; "To Life Awake," by Offenbach, by the choir with Mrs. Jessie Combellack as soloist; a solo by Mrs. Gladys Morrow; Vail's "King All Glorious," by the choir with Mrs. Rantz as soloist, and "Christ Is Risen," by Emmerson, by the choir.

MORE RADIOS

LONDON (UP)—The number of British broadcasting licenses has reached the new high record of 8,071,464. There was a net increase of 110,891 licenses during January and the increase during the past 12 months was 592,847.

The future farmers of Turlock, Stanislaus Caunty, held their annual field day at the Lane Ranch, March 6.

COLD FORECAST

WASHINGTON (UP)—There will be no rain Easter Sunday, the United States Weather Bureau said today, because it will be too cold to rain. If there is any precipitation it will be in the form of snow.

Over most of the United States, however, the weather will be generally fair—but snappy. The bureau advised promenaders to wear heavy coats over Easter finery.

ITALY SENDING AID TO REBELS

today denied it had given any fresh assurance to Great Britain that Italy would refrain from sending more soldiers to Spain to fight for the rebels there.

The United Press simultaneously learned authoriatively that Premier Benito Mussolini's instructions to the Italian ambassador here, Dino Grandi, to refuse to discuss any proposal to recall foreign "volunteers" from Spain, would stand intact.

SHIP HALTED

PARIS (UP)—A French warship fired today across the bows of a French merchant vessel carrying 25 volunteers to Spain and forced the ship to put in to Port Vendres, on the Mediterranean cosat near the Spanish frontier.

There the volunteers were landed and taken to Gendarme headquarters under escort.

First reports said that all the volunteers were Canadians. A later report was that most of them were German and Russian volunteers, evidently anti-Fascists on their way to loyalist Catalonia.

Nazis Take Charge Of Nation's Farms

BERLIN (UP)—Nazi authorities took full control of the country's farm life today under the four-year plan to make Germany self-sufficient.

A decree by Co.-Gen. Hermann Goering, commander in chief of the four-year plan, was published in today's official Gazete. It opened by explaining that anybody who owned land useful for agriculture was obliged to cultivate it. In six terse paragraphs it described how land and farms must be managed to assure an increased food supply and make Germany independent.

Merriam's Secretary Is Facing 3 Charges

ALBANY (UP)—Mark L. McGladdery, secretary to Governor Frank F. Merriam, today faced charges of three counts of traffic violations.

He was ticketed by Traffic Officer John Viarengo, who charged him with speeding, cutting in and operating an automobile without a driver's license.

EUROPE CALLS U. S. PENURIOUS

Some Office Workers In London Paid $9 Weekly

By DAN ROGERS
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP)—Uncle Sam is becoming known as a "skinflint" employer in Europe—at least as far as consulates are concerned.

Native clerks and stenographers, a certain number of which are necessary for efficient transaction of consular business, are paid as little at $9 a week. They receive no "allowance" and are not eligible for pensions, regardless of how long or how faithfully they serve the United States government.

In London, British clerks and stenographers, of both sexes, average $16 a week. This includes the highest paid, $20 a week, as well as the lowest. One veteran clerk has worked for 20 years and his salary is $20 a week. A well-educated English girl was employed recently at $420 a year.

Americans, unless they are employed in Washington and especially sent abroad, fare somewhat better. Seven American girls hired in London during the past five years average $13 a week salary but receive, in addition, an average of about $25 a month "living allowance."

Americans hired in Washington, who do the same work, get $1,800, plus a living allowance.

"MOTHER" HARTMAN, NOTED WAR NURSE, FIRE'S VICTIM

COLMA (UP) — "Mother" Minerva Hartman, famed nurse who followed American soldiers to the battlefields of the Indian, Civil and Spanish American wars, and worked with Florence Nightingale in the Crimean War, was burned to death yesterday when her "fort on stilts" was destroyed by fire. She was 104 years old.

Flames of undetermined origin swept through the house which she kept in defiance of the state highway department. Colma firemen found her body in the bedroom.

Termed affectionately by Colma residents as their "number one citizen," "Mother Hartman for many years had been entertained by her numerous friends on her birthdays.

Several years ago when the state highway department planned to reroute the Colma "bottleneck" highway, they asked "Mother Minerva" to move her house to make way for road construction.

Mrs. Hartman, a veteran of the Scutari battlefields in Crimea, stoutly resisted the highway department. She refused to move her residence.

"I don't see why I should move just to let a lot of buzz wagons go by," she told the highway department spiritedly.

Finally "Mother Minerva" and the highway department reached a compromise. They raised her house on stilts and built the highway so it would follow a course around her house instead of through it. During the entire controversy, Mrs. Hartman never allowed the United States flag flying atop her house to come down.

"Mother Minerva" lived peaceably in her elevated home, 42 feet off the ground. Only on rare occasions she descended to the ground to make a few trips to Colma, wearing a battered old campaign hat with cords of the artillery, infantry and cavalry services on its crown.

When she was 99 years old, she came down long enough to be hit by a passing automobile. Unhurt, she remarked that "the only thing that has to be repaired is the automobile."

"Mother Minerva" was a friend of Florence Nightingale, famed Red Cross nurse in Crimea, and once attended a dinner party at the Nightingale home in London.

SPORTS

The baseball team is practicing in the gym, these nice stormy days, and by the looks of the weather it will be some time before practice can be held outside.

The league games with Jackson, Sutter Creek and Ione were postponed, but the Cougars hope to travel to Folsom, Friday, March 26, for a game. Here's hoping the game down there comes out the way the one up here did. —Ken Ward.

JUNIOR CLASS

The play on March 18, seemed to be a real success. A larger crowd than we have seen for some time, was present. We would like to make one, not an unintentional error probably, but: The general manager, Ella Roddan, was left off the program and we would like to have it known that she did plenty of good work. —Junior Class.

TREES CHECK DUST STORMS

Shelter Strips Total 1,277 Miles, Says Forest Report

By FRED O. BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP) — Planting of hundreds of millions of trees is urged by Department of Agriculturists as a check on dust storms that roll each spring across the vast, unbroken expanse of the midwestern dust bowl.

Dust storms already have stripped 50,000,000 acres of top soil in the rich breadbasket of the nation and have damaged 100,000,000 other acres. Recent drouths have made the top soil loose and have added to the destructiveness of dust storms.

Foreseeing the danger of a great American desert in the Middle West if the dust storms were not checked, the federal government began the planting three years ago of a "shelter belt" of trees from Texas to the Canadian border.

This scheme was ridiculed by some and made difficult by two unprecedently severe drouths. But the government stuck doggedly to its task, planting millions of trees. Today there are 1,277 miles of shelter strips.

Government workers planted an average of 740 trees per acre. An average of 550 trees survived and now range from 20 to 30 feet in height. Government silviculturists declare the shelterbelt is a proven success.

$700,000 PAID TO STATE FARMERS IN '36 PROGRAM

Approximately $700,000 will have been distributed by the end of March to California farmers for their co-operation in the 1936 Agricultural Conservation Program, according to word received from headquarters of the State Agricultural Conservation Committee in Berkeley. Payments are being made from the San Francisco branch of the U. S. Treasury.

This total covers about 9,000 applications which have been certified for payment by the state committee office. Applications for payments under the 1936 program are now being received in the state committees office at the rate of about 1,200 a week and an average of 200 are being certified for payment daily.

Completion of the work sheet sign-up for the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program is now under way. The total sign-up thus far indicated is approximately 125,000. This is estimated to represent about 90 per cent of the farms in California.

The final date for filing work sheets for the 1937 program will be announced in the near future. In the meantime, county and state officials in charge of the program are advising every farmer who wishes to take part in 1937 to fill out a work sheet for each farm he owns or operates. No payments will be made to any farmer unless a work sheet covering his farm has been placed on file with his county agricultural conservation committee. Details about the 1937 Agricultural Conservation Program may be obtained from County Farm Advisors or county agricultural conservation associations' headquarters.
